1st and Goal with Odog

Revving Up the Engines! Thanksgiving Monday saw the Saskatchewan Roughriders jump out to an early lead over the Toronto Argonauts and walk away with a 36-10 decisive win. The Green and White is firing on all cylinders heading into the stretch drive with the offense, defense and special teams all getting the job done. This game served as the precursor to November 25's big game where these same two team's could be battling for Earl Grey's coveted trophy. The stars have to align and the Riders need to play some hard nosed football, but at this point it's not a stretch to picture them making another trip to Rogers Center to end the season. If Canada's Team does find themselves in the Grey Cup they might simply be too powerful for their opponent much like they were for the Argos on Monday.

Big Time Ball Carrier! Kory Sheets crossed over the 1000 yard rushing mark with 117 yards on the ground versus the Argos. Sheets also finds himself in 2nd place and a mere 153 yards behind Calgary's Jon Cornish for the top rushing spot. The balanced offense that having the leagues #2 rusher carrying the mail provides keeps the opposing defenses honest and really opens up the play book for Darian Durant and offensive coordinator Bob Dyce. In digging for some tough yards against Toronto, Sheet's has earned himself this week's Odog's Gang Green Game Star.

13th Man! Many who watched Sunday's game, no doubt, watched the 13th Man documentary as part of the Engraved on the Nation series. The piece is a bitter sweet account of the both passion of Rider fans as well as the infamous 13th man penalty that cost the Boys in Green the Grey Cup in 2009. The documentary conjures up a plethora of emotions from elation to sorrow and embraces the culture that is Rider Nation. I encourage all Rider fans to take the time to watch it.

Keep the Drive Alive! With the win over the Argos the Riders find themselves tied with Calgary for 2nd place in the West. Next up for the Green and White is trip to the "Evil Empire" Commonwealth Stadium in Edmonton to take on the Eskimos. Based on winning 5 of their last 6 games the Riders should roll out of Edmonton with the win. Following Edmonton, the remainder of the season sees the Riders facing the Als, Argos and Lions. Tough...yes, but the Riders are tougher, with the heart and desire to back it up. Look for them to keep fighting for the home playoff game and a trip to the championship.

Be Loud and Proud!

Cancervive bike tour stops in Redvers

The Cancervive cyclists took a short break to warm up in the Log Cabin on October 5.

I had the opportunity to join the Cancervive group for lunch on Friday, October 5. All the cyclists were in good spirits despite the cold weather conditions. They shared stories of dangerous roads, dangerous drivers, frozen water bottles and frozen fingers all in the name of raising awareness and funds for cancer and care for its survivors. They left Calgary on October 2, and Redvers was one of their stops on the nine-day journey to Lewiston, Maine. Cyclists will arrive in Lewiston in time to participate in the Dempsey Challenge event. Each rider has the chance to sponsor a Warrior (survivor) to fly to Lewiston to participate in the weekend's events and celebrate survivorship. The Warrior Program offers some relief and at the same time gives a dose of hope and inspiration, as the journey through cancer treatment can be a spiritual drain on patients and their families.

The Cancervive Peloton Project (CPP) is Cancervive's flagship event aimed at ambassadorship of cancer survivors and awareness of their issues. The annual nine-day bike excursion from Calgary features a group of 30 riders in pelotons of six, cycling relay style 24 hours a day. So far every year Cancervive has chosen a destination to a city that hosts a Lance Armstrong LIVESTRONG™ charity bike ride.

This is the first year that Cancervive will be participating in the Dempsey Challenge, who will be in their 4th year of organizing the Charity Bike Ride in Maine. 2012 marks Cancervive's 8th year organizing the annual bike ride in support of cancer survivorship.

The Cancervive Challenge provides the opportunity for cancer survivors and their supporters to train for an achievable goal and give back to the cancer community. A key to life beyond cancer includes physical activity and peer support - the Cancervive Challenge provides this. Each participant will train to participate in the one-day Dempsey Challenge cycling event in Lewiston, Maine in October 2012. In addition to training, each rider will raise funds throughout the year in support of Cancervive and Wellspring. Every member of the Bike Ride is required to raise a minimum of $10,000 in order to participate in the tour.

Cancervive is the umbrella organization that administers and directs the activities of all aspects of the project. Cancervive is volunteer-based, and we direct 100% of donated funds to local cancer survivorship programs at Wellspring. A community-based center, Wellspring Calgary provides a wide range of cancer support programs and services to serve the emotional, social, and informational needs of people living with cancer, and those who care for them. Wellspring Calgary programs are provided at no cost to the user.
